Tribute to Veterans

Last Saturday, I was so grateful to be back at Arcadia County Park for my 24th annual Tribute to Veterans and Military Families to honor those who've served our country and county. Every day, we must renew our promise to serve those who've served. The lives of our veterans are precious—and to pay tribute to the lives of those we've lost, we must remember our commitment to uplift those who are still with us. Thank you to everyone who joined me for this celebration and tribute! In case you missed it, I encourage you to watch

Breaking Ground

With shovels in hand, I joined San Gabriel Valley Habitat for Humanity to celebrate the groundbreaking of a new affordable single-family home in Altadena on Thursday. This property will give a family in our community the pride of homeownership and truly transform their lives. I'm grateful Los Angeles County transferred this land to Habitat for Humanity to get this project underway. Public-private partnerships are crucial as we work together to address the housing supply and affordability crises in our communities.

Turning the Corner

This week, I was grateful to meet with Amy Wainscott, President and Chair of the 134th Rose Parade and 109th Rose Bowl Game, to tour the Wrigley Mansion, the headquarters for the Tournament of Roses. I was eager to hear about Amy's theme for 2023, "Turning the Corner," to celebrate all the exciting opportunities for hope and healing on the horizon. I am so proud to have the Rose Parade in my district as a Pasadena institution and a beloved symbol of the New Year internationally.
