A Letter from Los Angeles County Supervisor Hilda L. Solis

Dear Friends,

This Veterans Day, we cannot forget the many sacrifices our women and men in uniform have made for our freedoms. Many of our Veterans have gone or are currently going through their transition to civilian life and some have had more challenges than others in that transition. To that end, we must continue to address gaps and ensure that no Veteran goes without the proper assistance in leading an effortless return.

As a former Secretary of Labor, I often witnessed the challenges Veterans experienced in finding employment. Veterans or their family members were not connecting with the job market upon their return home, so I worked with the Department of Veterans Affairs to help make that happen. And as Supervisor, I have worked to expand and build upon the needed infrastructure to create a better path for our Veterans.

After receiving a tour of Patriotic Hall during my first few months as Supervisor, I noticed the state-of-the-art kitchen and thought it would be a great opportunity to start a Veteran Culinary Arts program. So, with local stakeholders, we began to build a path to create suitable training and employment. This program was for Veterans and their immediate family members – at one point leading to a father and daughter graduating from the program together! And today was no different. My office hosted a Veterans Resource Fair in East LA where Veterans and their families were able to connect with much-needed services, such as employers, medical services, and education counselors, among many more services.

From boosting employment opportunities to supporting aging Veterans through regional partnerships, I am committed to doing better for our Veterans. It is because of their sacrifice and courage that our communities continue to thrive.

Sincerely,

Hilda L. Solis

Supervisor, First District
